Governor - We just received a scheduling request for you for tomorrow (Saturday) 08.16.08 at 4:00 p.m. Location: Heaven Farm in Wasilla. I know that you are traveling and not able to meet this request but wanted you to know about it as they state they are family friends of the Heaths.

Governor invited to speak at the Heaven Conservation Project Dedication and Ribbon Cutting. This ceremony is honoring 40 acres of farmland that have been protected by future development. The Alaska Farmland Trust Association assisted the Heaven Family in protecting this farmland. Requestor: Lisa Humphr

The media coverage you have been getting is completely out of line. We believe in you and what you are doing. As govenor of alaska you have done an outstanding job. Do not let people like Halcro an Fagen drag you down as they have tried to ever since you were elected, and before. There are a few law enforcement people that should be put in the same boat and sent out to sea to be sunk. This is rediculas for these people to treat such an honorable govenor like they do. I just want you to know my wife and I are behind you all the way...Dale Hillmer & Joan Anderson

My letter to the editor:

Enough already

Did Sarah Palin abuse her power as governor and fire Walt Monegan for not firing Trooper Wooten? I think the question is reasonable to a certain extent. And that extent is long past. This is no longer the topic. The topic is really how can we roast Sarah Palin. I mean, let's be adults about this. Was she wrong in being concerned for her safety and that of her family? No. Should Trooper Wooten still be a State Trooper? No. Did her staff know how much it bothered her and did they act on that? Yes. Apparently Sarah Palin is a little too "transparent" to those close to her, they knew how she felt. Fear for your family is a hard thing to hide. So, they knew it bothered her and they did something about that. Should they have? I don't know. I guess it goes back to whether or not Trooper Wooten should still be a State Trooper. And the answer is No. Are we done dragging this through the mud and hearing about it on Dan Fagen and the news? Aren't there other issues that really need to be discuss ed? I mean enough already!

Sara I don't know how you do it, this is a thankless job. If there is anything I can do except be angry on your behalf please let me know.

Governor Palin, I may ramble here a bit but actually just want to voice my support for you and your administration of our State. This issue that currently attempts to overshadow your accomplishments angers me greatly. Tonite on one of the Anc

TV station news they held a poll.......I don't recall exactly how they worded it, "Do You Think She Knew........?" but it was typical of the feeding frenzy now occuring. I don't know of a single family that would NOT do everything in their power to intervene on behalf of a family member being victimized by an abusive partner. And when the abuser wears a badge and gun it is a very dangerous and scary situation. The news media seems to have forgotten that aspect of this whole issue. I have no idea as to the degree of your involvement in this matter and quite frankly, I don't care. To criticize Todd for acting to protect his wife and her family is beyond belief. To the contrary, if he did not act then I would wonder why. There are certain aspects to being an Alaskan that still survive in this age of political correctness, that being to know the difference between right and wrong, and to act accordingly. I am not alone in my opinion, Governor, especially in this community. I'm hoping this will pass......perhaps Ted will draw the spotlight and leave you to continue with the business of running our Great State.

Baby Shower Honoring Trig Palin to Benefit Soldiers

August 15, 2008, Juneau, Alaska – Governor Sarah Palin today announced she will attend a baby shower in Trig Palin's honor next week and that all gifts will be donated to help military families.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Family Ties Foundation. The foundation is a non-profit organization created to provide immediate support for the military families of wounded service members deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom or Operation Enduring Freedom. The event is being hosted by local morning radio personalities Bob and Mark from 106.5 KWHL.

"My family has been so blessed by the arrival of Trig. It is my honor to share that blessing with our men and women in uniform through this event," Governor Palin said. "I invite all Alaskans who'd like to support our wonderful military families to participate."

The event will take place at Romano's restaurant, on Fireweed Lane at C Street, on Monday from 5 to 7 p.m. The public is invited. Romano's restaurant will donate a portion of the sales from the evening to the Family Ties Foundation.

Hi Governor Palin and Staff

My wife Cassandra and I are weeks away from child number two. Home water birth with Judy over at Mat-Su Midwifery. She is great and an angel.

I wanted you all to know that our corp Mat-Su Energy Inc. is reaching out to rural Alaska and ready to train residents of rural Alaska how to assemble wind towers and construct solar panel systems.

So much great news is developing with our company. We our now nationwide and getting requests for our services and products in Europe. We just fulfilled an order for General Dynamics in Anapolis, Maryland.

We our a proud Valley owned business and plan to represent our area of Alaska like no other company has.

With my wife as the main owner I better do a great job.

Please visit our website and see what your neighbors are up to, I'm sure you will be proud.

Nellie Miller, mother of Mike Miller and the late Terry Miller, has died. Last Sunday.

She has been in failing health for the past three or four years.

I don't have many details at this point. The Fairbanks Daily News-Miner will have an obituary tomorrow, I believe.

Besides being very active in the Republican Party in the 1960's through the 1980's, she was involved with the City of North Pole incorporation and subsequent affairs. Her husband was mayor for many years. Nellie served (long, long time) on the school board in North Pole before the borough was formed in 1964. She was pretty much the driving force behind the construction of the first school in North Pole.

Nellie was a most interesting woman who had a very keen intellect. And political savvy. She was very, very proud of her two sons and daughter Merry Christmas Miller. As you know, both sons served in the legislature for many years. Terry went on to become lieutenant governor.

Governor – They have confirmed your speech for Sept. 4 – the time is still to be determined but they think around 7:00 or 8:00 p.m. We would not want to take you out on the 4th. I have checked with the gop folks regarding the hotel arrangements. As they will only cover Sept. 3 and 4 this would mean moving hotels in the middle of the trip. They will not cover the Ramada at the Mall which we have 4 rooms booked and need them all. The gop hotel will only cover 2 rooms so the group would be separated. I am checking with RGA on the hotel being covered all nights (Ramada). I should know shortly. Thanks, Governor, the gasline team will be back together next week and prepare a draft plan for your review. It will be great to be working on this with AGIA having passed.

We will also work on setting up the AO signing schedule that works for all the interested parties. Tom

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE No. 08-142

Baby Shower Honoring Trig Palin to Benefit Soldiers

August 15, 2008, Juneau, Alaska – Governor Sarah Palin today announced she will attend a baby shower in Trig Palin's honor next week and that all gifts will be donated to help military families.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Family Ties Foundation. The foundation is a non-profit organization created to provide immediate support for the military families of wounded service members deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom or Operation Enduring Freedom. The event is being hosted by local morning radio personalities Bob and Mark from 106.5 KWHL.

"My family has been so blessed by the arrival of Trig. It is my honor to share that blessing with our men and women in uniform through this event," Governor Palin said. "I invite all Alaskans who'd like to support our wonderful military families to participate."

The event will take place at Romano's restaurant, on Fireweed Lane at C Street, on Monday from 5 to 7 p.m. The public is invited. Romano's restaurant will donate a portion of the sales from the evening to the Family Ties Foundation.

Yes, pls correct ADN that Frank was never manager, and custody battle should be past tense.

And try for the correction on the edited/spliced "Frank tape" they played on Channel 11.

Governor,

The timing on this message, which we have not seen before, is confusing. It looks as though it was sent at 3:28 p.m. today, which of course is impossible. So anyway, no, no corrections have been made because we're just seeing this.

We certainly can let Kyle know about his misidentification of Frank's role in the campaign. Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Subject: Corrections

It may drive me crazy trying to catch all the corrections we'll be reading and seeing in the media, but please help me catch them and ask for the corrections.

* Today's ADN: Bailey was never my campaign manager. Please correct.
* Today's AP: Piper is 7, not 8.
* There needs, also, clarification in a general press statement that reminds Alaskans that it is not only appropriate but even directed by DoL's website that "complaints (or concerns) about a trooper ARE TO BE brought forth to the DPS Commissioner's Office". (Why have they reported so erroneously on that fact- like there was something wrong with anyone doing what Law directs concerned individuals to do?!)

There are too many Channel 11 corrections to even list here, but please ask them why they spliced Bailey's tape and edited it the way they did without disclosing that.

Pls let me know when these correction requests are forwarded today... and I still think we need a strong press statement that clarifies the general misunderstanding of "PRESSURING-Monegan" calls. These appropriate inquiries were not pressure.

And that my sister wasn't in the midst of a divorce, that's been over for a few years. And even the custody battle is past tense. They keep reporting that incorrectly also.

MESSAGE:

Dear Governor Palin,

While I certainly realize you can't possibly read, much less respond, to everything you receive, I hope someone on staff can take a moment. In April of 2007, my wife,Catherine,was diagnosed with breast cancer. Needless to say,the time since then,with all that has happened, has been traumatic for her,and,indeed our entire family.

I am happy to say the treatment and care she has received-right here in Fairbanks-has been nothing short of wonderful,and thankfully,successful. Having noted that, we have encountered problems,that,frankly,I don't know how to deal with.

While the medical and nursing staff of Fairbanks Memorial Hospital were competent and caring, dealing with Banner Health has not been a pleasant experience.I cannot understand how they can expect working folks to come with the kind of money they are asking to be paid immediately,if not sooner,but they continue to up the ante to the point where I am completley overwhelmed.I can hardly see the the point of making the effort at present.My wife is still unable to return to work,and although I work as much overtime as possible,the cost of living has escalated so much I'm hardly keeping up.When Banner does not receive their money,it automaticlly gets forwarded to a collection agency.No need to say how this affects my credit rating,and therefore,my ability to pay them in the future. Now I have been informed they may choose to seize our dividends. I didn't even know that was possible or legal. They are not the only medical entity we owe-merely the single largest one. I am employed at the Fo rt Knox Mine, and yes, there is health insurance-which brings me to my next point. As I have come to understand is typical of insuramce companies, Employee Benefit Management Services, Inc.,P.O. Box 21367, Billings MT 59104, is not truly intersted in providing benefits.

What benefits have been paid have had to be coaxed from them, have not been paid at the level they promised, have been stalled at every turn-not paid untill I receive collection threats,etc. They did not pay the radiation oncologist untill I called and asked for an accounting and review(which they STILL have not provided) stating it was an "oversight".Honestly,if I performed my job in like manner,I woudn't HAVE one. Today, FMH called to inform us that EBMS had DENIED payment for the antibiotic treatment the doctor had prescribed. This is not the first item we have had to "haggle" with them about, just the latest and most expensive.

My wife was advised by her doctors to lower her stress levels-could one say this is not conducive to that? How is it that such a company is allowed to operate in Alaska?

I realize there is little even the Governor's office can do in these situations, and I am not asking anyone to pay my bills. If someone else is entitled to our dividends,

I suppose we'll figure out how to pay bills at home another way. I DO, however, question strongly Banner Health/FMH being a "community" institution, especially as they maintain a virtual monopoly here,having recently acquired Tanana Valley

Clinic and successfully blocking any other institutions from opening in the area.

Also,while I do not advocate state-run medical care, I DO believe any entity licensed to do business in Alaska should be required to operate ethically, honestly, transparently, and COMPREHENDABLY. I suppose I should consider seeking legal council, but that requires money as well.

If, indeed, someone has taken the time to read this, my thanks- please consider situations like mine when making future policy decisions.

Sincerely, Jesse Payne

This is kind of a quick learn up on main stream thoughts about the new Transportaion systems emerging for the home and businesses.

I dont agree with several comments, perspectives, and attitudes;
But considering the weight of authorative bodies, industries represented, and passionately diverse panel discussions here, I find it to be a great learning tool regardless of which side your on ..

There aint nothin like a fearless, good, lively, honest, passionate, and well intended public discussion of opinions and ideas

Thank You Sincerely,

PS.. Why cant our various elected and appointed leaders, energy task forces, committees, and other energy related bodies have their meetings on camera like this so we can see what our learders are thinking; and maybe we can participate, also?

Hi, I've been sort of looking at the headlines in the newspaper. I'm not sure of exactly all of what's goingon with this wooten stuff and such, but you look like you are having a stressful time of it.

I didn't vote for you - but since the election have decided you are doing a pretty good job. You seem honest and fair and just like an all around decent person.

Mostly what I wanted to tell you is that I'm praying for you. You're a Christian so I figured you wouldn't mind someone doing that for you and telling you about it. At least for me when I'm going through a stressful time it helps to know that there's someone out there praying for me.

that's all I wanted to say, nothing terribly profound. I just got to thinking about you and figured you could use an uplift.

Blessings to you and yours, Lisa Sandvik

Baby Shower Honoring Trig Palin to Benefit Soldiers

August 14, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska – Governor Sarah Palin today announced she will attend a baby shower in Trig Palin's honor next week and that all gifts will be donated to help military families. Proceeds will benefit the Family Ties Foundation. The foundation is a non-profit organization created to provide immediate support for the military families of wounded service members deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom or Operation Enduring Freedom. The event is being hosted by local morning radio personalities Bob and Mark from 106.5 KWHL.

"My family has been so blessed by the arrival of Trig. It is my honor to share that blessing with our men and women in uniform through this event," Governor Palin said. "I invite all Alaskans who'd like to support our wonderful military families to participate."

The event will take place at Romano's restaurant, onFireweed Lane at C Street, on Monday from 5 to 7 p.m. Romano's restaurant will donate a portion of the sales from the evening to the Family Ties Foundation.

Subject: Clarification on regulation 5aac 75.003

Dear Mr. Nelson,

On Thursday, August 14, 2008 the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G) issued Emergency Order 2-ss-2-26-08 which raised the bag and possession limit for coho salmon in the Little Susitna River from two to three.

In the past I have questioned what authority ADF&G has to increase bag and possession limits when an existing management plan does not contain the option for increasing said bag limits.

Regulation 5 AAC 75.003 states that an emergency order may not supersede bag and possession limits or methods and means established in regulatory management plans established by the Board of Fisheries.

The above referenced emergency order does just that. Regulation 5 AAC 60.170 Little Susitna River Coho Salmon Management Plan limits the bag and possession limit to two fish with no option stated in regulation to change it.

Therefore, it appears that ADF&G has no authority to take such action via emergency order. They may,under my understanding, do so by emergency regulation.

Further, at the Upper Cook Inlet Board of Fisheries meeting in February 2008 the ADF&G submitted proposal 206 to allow them to alter bag and possession limits in the Kenai River sockeye salmon fishery and they noted in public testimony and via RC 2 that regulation 75.003 was limiting their emergency order authority. The Board of Fisheries agreed and altered the Kenai River sockeye salmon management plan to allow more flexibility relative to bag and possession limits in the Kenai River.

Therefore, it appears ADF&G is fully aware of the limitations of 75.003 and yet they continue this season to not follow the regulation. I have questioned ADF&G directly numerous times where they may have been in violation of 75.003 and they cite they have talked with law about this and they are confident they have the legal authority to change bag and possession limits via emergency order authority. even with an existing management plan limits that authority.

Of course that is in conflict with their own position at the Board of Fisheries meeting on Kenai River sockeye salmon.

At this point I would like you or someone in the law department to respond in writing as to what authority ADF&G has in regulation or statue to override regulation 5 AAC 75.003 relative to bag and possession limit alteration when an existing management plan prohibits such actions.

I would also like to note I am not questioning the rationale for the emergency order at this time just the authority.

Thank you for your time on this matter. I look forward to your response.

Dear Governor Palin,

I am a father of a large Alaskan family living on Haystack, north of Fairbanks. I want you to know how much we appreciate your integrity and courage in doing what's right for Alaskans. Don't be discouraged by the attacks of your enemies or the help given them by the media. We know that you are serving us.

We are confident you are an answer to prayer. God has placed you where you are. We are praying for you and yours...rejoicing in God's blessing and grace given along with a few trials and tears. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Flee to Him often. The Lord is on my side; what can man do unto me?

I know He is faithful and will help you with all your burdens. Confide everything in your husband also. He is God's hand in your life.

Yours in Christ,
John P. Glenn

In it, didn't Jason Moore (or another reporter) ask if I was aware of "any of these calls putting pressure on to fire Wooten"?

And my response was "no, I wasn't aware (of any "pressuring Monegan-type" calls)".

Is the media now reporting that incorrectly - claiming I'm inconsistent or unbelivable because I HAD to have known? I still don't believe there were ANY Monegan-pressured calls and the closest to that would have been Bailey's tape (but it wasn't to Monegan), or Todd's inquiry (but that wasn't "pressure" on Monegan- it was following Law's website instruction to bring trooper concerns and complaints to the DPS Commissioner, and following Security Detail's request that Todd bring forth his concerns to the Commissioner - it wasn't a "pressure" call).

Also, Channel 11 hacked Bailey's phone call and it sure sounded like they edited the tape (without any acknowledgement of doing so), taking his comments further out of context. Pls listen to their 10pm report and I think they need to correct and clarify that they edited his comments, if I heard that right.

The more I think about ADN's follow-up questions to me, and having heard Channel 11's report, the more I'm wondering if they're getting this wrong (and they need correcting) re: my answer to the specific question of whether I knew of any "pressuring Monegan" calls. I still don't believe there were any - and I totally disagree with Walt's assertion that Bailey and Krietzer and Todd and Tibbles specifically "pressured" him. And Talis' call wasn't pressure either.

Dear Joe,

Apologies for overloading your inbox but I thought you might be interested in reading Anglo's response to the recent attack on our track record and our statement on that response. I hope you find this useful and if you have any questions please give me a call.

Phillip Mattera's report, commissioned by the Renewable Resources Coalition and Nunamta Aulukestai, is filled with inaccurate, selective, incomplete and distorted representations of Anglo American's environmental and operational record. As part of our commitment to transparency, we have compiled a detailed analysis of Mr. Mattera's report in order to set the record straight.

- While Mr. Mattera positions his report as a review of Anglo American's record, he presents only one side of the story. His report selects a small number of cases from Anglo American's corporate history of over 90 years. It ignores the many instances of Anglo American's commitment to raise operational standards, upgrade technologies and processes, protect the environment, mitigate problems, and work in concert with the communities around our facilities.
- His report refers to several historical issues dating back many decades, when today's stringent environmental regulations were not in place. It also fails to recognize that many of the problems he cites were at facilities which were constructed and operated by other entities before coming under Anglo American ownership. In all of these instances, our company has made documented progress in improving conditions and correcting problems.
- The problems areas "uncovered" by Mr. Mattera are ones that we ourselves have already identified, publically acknowledged, and addressed.

Anglo American is committed to sustainable practices and active stewardship of the environment while respecting the people and cultures where we operate – and this commitment has been recognized by many international environmental and sustainability organizations. We have an established track record of conserving and protecting environmental resources through the efficient use of energy and water, minimizing waste and reducing pollution.

Anglo American Chief Executive Cynthia Carroll, speaking in Anchorage in October 2007, has already committed to bringing Anglo's international best practices to the proposed Pebble Project. She stated

"We do not want to and will not be associated with a mine that damages Alaska's fisheries and wildlife. If a mine cannot be planned in a way that provides proper protections, it will not be built."

Anglo American is proud to bring these strengths to Alaska, and to let the facts of our record speak for themselves.
